

Once again the 402.3 people have joined forces to put a Belen on top of Victor's property in Christmas. He is no longer with us and is hopefully in a better place now (he's now a consultant), so we had to bamboozle his roommate into letting us access his bedroom (thanks Luis). Hopefully he won't be too mad when he returns home! Merry Christmas y'all!

Department of Theoretical Condensed Matter Physics wishes you a Merry Christmas And Happy New Year 2019!